Subject and Predicate

- Every complete sentence contains two parts: a subject and a predicate. The subject is what (or whom) the sentence is about, while the predicate tells us something about the subject.
- Example –
- The subject of the sentence is what (or whom) the sentence is about. In the sentence “The cat is sleeping in the sun,” the word cat is the subject. A predicate is the part of a sentence, or a clause, that tells what the subject is doing or what the subject is.

• OR

- Subject

That part of a sentence which names the person or thing we are talking about is known as a subject.

- Predicate

That part of the sentence which tells something about the subject is known as the predicate.

Eg :1) The children are playing in the park.

The children is the subject of the sentence and playing in the park is its predicate.

2) Tina is eating Ice-cream.

- Tina is the subject of the sentence and eating Ice-cream is its predicate.

Articles

- For vowels prefix it with AN article
- For consonants prefix it with A
- The U in university is pronounced with a long 'u' sound which sounds like 'yew', So, although the letter is a vowel, it is not pronounced like one in 'university' because it does not have a vowel sound. We therefore say 'a university'.
- The U in umbrella is pronounced as a vowel and so we use 'an'. We therefore say 'an umbrella'.
- This rule also applies to the use of consonants.
- The word hour has a soft 'h' which is weakly pronounced and therefore we say 'an hour'.
- If the word has a hard 'h', like house, we use 'a' (a house).

Articles

- CASE 1

- The article A is used before singular, countable nouns which begin with consonant sounds.
- Examples:
- He is a teacher.
- She doesn't own a car.
- I saw a bear at the zoo.

- CASE 2

- The article AN is used before singular, countable nouns which begin with vowel sounds.
- Examples:
- He is an actor.
- She didn't get an invitation.
- I saw an eagle at the zoo.

- CASE 3

- Remember that A(AN) means "one" or "a single". You cannot use A(AN) with plural nouns.
- Examples:
- I saw a bears in Yellowstone National Park. Not Correct
- I saw bears in Yellowstone National Park. Correct

Articles

- CASE 4
- The is used to refer to specific or particular nouns;
- a/an is used to modify non-specific or non-particular nouns.
- We call the the definite article and a/an the indefinite article.
- For example, if I say, "Let's read the green book," I mean a specific book.

Nouns

- A noun is a word for a person, place, or thing. Everything we can see or talk about is represented by a word that names it. That "naming" word is called a noun.

Often a noun will be the name for something we can touch (e.g., lion, cake, computer), but sometimes a noun will be the name for something we cannot touch (e.g., bravery, mile, joy).

Everything is represented by a word that lets us talk about it. This includes people (e.g., man, scientist), animals (e.g., dog, lizard), places (e.g., town, street), objects (e.g., vase, pencil), substances (e.g., copper, glass), qualities (e.g., heroism, sorrow), actions (e.g., swimming, dancing), and measures (e.g., inch, ounce).

- Examples of Nouns-

- People: soldier, Alan, cousin, lawyer
- Animals: aardvark, rat, shark, Mickey
- Places: house, London, factory, shelter
- Things: table, London Bridge, chisel, nitrogen, month, inch, cooking
- Ideas: confusion, kindness, faith, Theory of Relativity, joy

Pronouns

- Pronouns replace nouns. If we didn't have pronouns, we'd have to keep repeating our nouns and that would make our sentences cumbersome and repetitive. Pronouns are usually short words.

Verb

- A verb is a word for an action or a state of being.

Explanation:

- VERB

Examples of action verbs are: walk, talk, think, see, eat, find, believe, sit.

Examples of verbs that relate a state of being are: am, are, is, will, was, were.

Verbs can work together, this function is called an auxiliary or helping verb, for example:

- I am walking.
- We were talking.
- I will see.

Adverb

- An adverb is a word used to modify a verb, an adjective, or another adverb.

- Explanation:

- ADVERB

An adverb is used to show degree, manner, place, or time of the verb, adjective, or another adverb that it modifies.

Examples of adverbs are: very, slowly, nearly, often, never, strangely, not.

Example use of adverbs:

- We were not talking. (modifies the verb 'were talking')
- Today is very hot. (modifies the adjective 'hot')
- I was walking very slowly. (modifies the adverb 'slowly')

Adjective

- An adjective is a word used to describe a noun.

- Explanation:

- ADJECTIVE

Most adjectives used to describe nouns have degrees:

- Positive degree = hot, small, strange, heavy, pretty.
- Comparative degree = hotter, smaller, stranger, heavier, prettier.
- Superlative degree = hottest, smallest, strangest, heaviest, prettiest.

Example use of adjectives.

- She wore a pretty dress. (describes the noun 'dress')
- The smaller children ride a school bus. (describes the noun 'children')
- We saw the strangest sight. (describes the noun 'sight')

Tenses

- Verbs come in three tenses:
- 1) past tense
 - The past is used to describe things that have already happened (e.g., earlier in the day, yesterday, last week, three years ago)
- 2) present tense
 - The present tense is used to describe things that are happening right now, or things that are continuous.
- 3) future tense.
 - The future tense describes things that have yet to happen (e.g., later, tomorrow, next week, next year, three years from now).

The following table illustrates the proper use of verb tenses:

Simple Present

I read nearly every day.

Present Continuous

I am reading Shakespeare at the moment.

Present Perfect

I have read so many books I can't keep count.

Present Perfect Continuous

I have been reading since I was four years old.

Simple Past

Last night, I read an entire novel.

Past Continuous

I was reading Edgar Allan Poe last night.

Past Perfect

I had read at least 100 books by the time I was twelve.

Past Perfect Continuous

I had been reading for at least a year before my sister learned to read.

Simple Future

I will read as much as I can this year.

Future Continuous

I will be reading Nathaniel Hawthorne soon.

Future Perfect

I will have read at least 500 books by the end of the year.

Future Perfect Continuous

I will have been reading for at least two hours before dinner tonight.

Reading Comprehension

The purpose of Artificial Intelligence(AI) is to aid human capabilities and help us make advanced decisions with far-reaching consequences. That's the answer from a technical standpoint. From a philosophical perspective, Artificial Intelligence has the potential to help humans live more meaningful lives devoid of hard labor, and help manage the complex web of interconnected individuals, companies, states, and nations to function in a manner that's beneficial to all of humanity.

Currently, the purpose of Artificial Intelligence is shared by all the different tools and techniques that we've invented over the past thousand years – to simplify human effort, and to help us make better decisions. Artificial Intelligence has also been touted as our Final Invention, a creation that would invent ground-breaking tools and services that would exponentially change how we lead our lives, by hopefully removing strife, inequality, and human suffering.

That's all in the far future though – we're still a long way from those kinds of outcomes. Currently, Artificial Intelligence is being used mostly by companies to improve their process efficiencies, automate resource-heavy tasks, and to make business predictions based on hard data rather than gut feelings. As all technology that has come before this, the research and development costs need to be subsidized by corporations and government agencies before it becomes accessible to everyday laymen.

The purpose of philosophy for humans is to help us understand our actions, their consequences, and how we can make better decisions. Modern intelligent systems can be built by following the different approaches of philosophy that will enable these systems to make the right decisions, mirroring the way that an ideal human being would think and behave. Philosophy would help these machines think and understand about the nature of knowledge itself. It would also help them make the connection between knowledge and action through goal-based analysis to achieve desirable outcomes.

Reading Comprehension

Reading Comprehension(Assignment)

Many present-day boards now recognize the need for careful succession planning. The Chief Executive Officer's succession plans are commonly part of his annual performance review, and most boards now devote several meetings a year to the subject. One crucial decision that boards face is whether to select one of their own or an outsider.

Unsurprisingly, firms in trouble are much more likely to look for fresh blood. When the business is running smoothly, directors are more than happy to pick an experienced insider, who will continue along the present path.

Whereas promising senior executives will often abandon a struggling company, successful firms stand to have a large pool of talented managers to choose from. Occasionally, even a successful company appoints an outsider who can introduce some particular expertise.

Many utility companies seek outside Chief Executive Officers to shepherd them through the complexities of deregulation. Many boards do consider outsiders even when the existing Chief Executive Officer is planning a normal retirement.

“The beauty of the Japanese landscape is that it conveys philosophical messages through each feature. The use of curving pathways rather than straight lines, for instance.

This feature springs from the belief that only evil travels in straight lines, good forces tend to wander. Then, odd numbers of plants or trees are used in these gardens because these numbers are considered auspicious.

Even the plants used are symbolic. For example, the Cypress represents “longevity and the bamboo symbolizes abundance.” says Sadhana Roy Choudhary.

In Japan, nature is said to be so closely intertwined with human life that parents actually plant a sapling in their garden when a child is born in the family, letting the growth of the child coincide with the growth of the plant.

Q. The passage below is accompanied by a set of questions. Choose the best answer to each question.

Punctually at midday he opened his bag and spread out his professional equipment, which consisted of a dozen cowrie shells, a square piece of cloth with obscure mystic charts on it, a note book, and a bundle of Palmyra writing.

His forehead was resplendent with sacred ash and vermilion, and his eyes sparkled with a sharp abnormal gleam which was really an outcome of a continual searching look for customers, but which his simple clients took to be a prophetic light and felt comforted.

The power of his eyes was considerably enhanced by their position placed as they were between the painted forehead and the dark whiskers which streamed down his cheeks: even a half-wit's eyes would sparkle in such a setting.

To crown the effect, he wound a saffron-coloured turban around his head.

This colour scheme never failed. People were attracted to him as bees are attracted to cosmos or dahlia stalks.

Reading Comprehension(Assignment)

Opera refers to a dramatic art form, originating in Europe, in which the emotional content is conveyed to the audience as much through music, both vocal and instrumental, as it is through the lyrics.

By contrast, in musical theater an actor's dramatic performance is primary, and the music plays a lesser role.

The drama in opera is presented using the primary elements of theater such as scenery, costumes, and acting.

However, the words of the opera, or libretto, are sung rather than spoken.

The singers are accompanied by a musical ensemble ranging from a small instrumental ensemble to a full symphonic orchestra.

Reading Comprehension

1. It is pointed out in the passage that opera -

- A) has developed under the influence of musical theater
- B) is a drama sung with the accompaniment of an orchestra
- C) is not a high-budget production
- D) is often performed in Europe
- E) is the most complex of all the performing arts

Ans: B

2. We can understand from the passage that -

- A) people are captivated more by opera than musical theater
- B) drama in opera is more important than the music
- C) orchestras in operas can vary considerably in size
- D) musical theater relies above all on music
- E) there is argument over whether the music is important or the words in opera

Ans: C

3. It is stated in the passage that -

- A) acting and costumes are secondary to music in musical theater
- B) many people find musical theater more captivating than opera
- C) music in musical theater is not as important as it is in opera
- D) an opera requires a huge orchestra as well as a large choir
- E) opera doesn't have any properties in common with musical theater

Ans: C

Reading Comprehension(Assignment)

- Dolphins are regarded as the friendliest creatures in the sea and stories of them helping drowning sailors have been common since Roman times.
- The more we learn about dolphins, the more we realize that their society is more complex than people previously imagined.
- They look after other dolphins when they are ill, care for pregnant mothers and protect the weakest in the community, as we do.
- Some scientists have suggested that dolphins have a language but it is much more probable that they communicate with each other without needing words. Could any of these mammals be more intelligent than man?
- Certainly the most common argument in favor of man's superiority over them that we can kill them more easily than they can kill us is the least satisfactory.
- On the contrary, the more we discover about these remarkable creatures, the less we appear superior when we destroy them.

Reading Comprehension

1. The fact that the writer of the passage thinks that we can kill dolphins more easily than they can kill us ----.

- A) means that they are better adapted to their environment than we are
- B) shows that dolphins have a very sophisticated form of communication
- C) proves that dolphins are not the most intelligent species at sea
- D) does not mean that we are superior to them
- E) proves that Dolphins have linguistic skills far beyond then what we previously thought

Ans: D

2. It is clear from the passage that dolphins ----.

- A) don't want to be with us as much as we want to be with them
- B) are proven to be less intelligent than once thought
- C) have a reputation for being friendly to humans
- D) are the most powerful creatures that live in the oceans
- E) are capable of learning a language and communicating with humans

Ans: C

3. One can infer from the reading that ----.

- A) dolphins are quite abundant in some areas of the world
- B) communication is the most fascinating aspect of the dolphins
- C) dolphins have skills that no other living creatures have such as the ability to think
- D) it is not usual for dolphins to communicate with each other
- E) dolphins have some social traits that are similar to those of humans

Reading Comprehension(Assignment)

- Naval architects never claim that a ship is unsinkable, but the sinking of the passenger-and-car ferry Estonia in the Baltic surely should have never have happened.
- It was well designed and carefully maintained. It carried the proper number of lifeboats. It had been thoroughly inspected the day of its fatal voyage. Yet hours later, the Estonia rolled over and sank in a cold, stormy night.
- It went down so quickly that most of those on board, caught in their dark, flooding cabins, had no chance to save themselves: Of those who managed to scramble overboard, only 139 survived.
- The rest died of hypothermia before the rescuers could pluck them from the cold sea. The final death toll amounted to 912 souls.
- However, there were an unpleasant number of questions about why the Estonia sank and why so many survivors were men in the prime of life, while most of the dead were women, children and the elderly.
